

Able to browse: no

1. What are the differences between a DNS Iterative Query and a DNS Recursive Query?
Recursive is when the DNS server sends out requests to other servers to help it find the query's answer.

Iterative is when the client goes to each DNS server personally and tries to find it itself.

2. How could a recursive query lead to a denial of service attack?

It allows hackers to do amplification attacks.